“Through SOS International’s workshop, the students learned essential knowledge about sustainability in higher education and useful skills which they can apply to realize tangible change projects at their institution” - Jan Cloppenburg, President of fzs e.V., Germany

“SOS International’s well-designed workshop and training has also shown us a new approach to project planning and has given participants the confidence and skills to proceed with their projects. We look forward to our next workshop!” - Ana Lopez, Coordinator at the Greenwich Sustainability Hub, United Kingdom
